World Leader in Visualising Carbon

CarbonSense is teaming up with GovEd Communications to launch a new business which aims to be the world leader in visualising carbon emissions. The partnership has developed unique techniques that enable any person, organisation, community or government to 'see' carbon emissions in a way that is immediate, meaningful and scientifically accurate.

We are now seeking partners for the next stage of this project.

Public Procurement pioneers

The CDP Public Procurement Report 2008, written by CarbonSense, was launched at the House of Commons on Wednesday 4 March. Defra, the Foreign Office and the V&A were amongst the pioneering members of the Carbon Disclosure Project's public sector supply chain initiative.
